Indira Goswami Mar 20 2020 This book engages with the life and works of Indira Goswami, the first Assamese woman writer to win the highest national literary award, the Jnanpith Award, in 2001. From sociological treatises to a springboard of a socio-political milieu, Goswami's texts are intersections of the local and the global, the popular and the canonical. The writer's penchant for transcending boundaries gives a new contour and shape to the social and cultural domains in her texts. That every character is a representative of the society, that the context comes alive in every evocation of class struggle, power play, caste discrimination and gendered narratives add an interesting semantic load to her texts. While tracing the trajectories discussed above, this book foregrounds Goswami's act of going beyond the margins of varied kinds, both abstract and concrete, in search of egalitarian and democratic spaces of life. The book looks at Indira Goswami's works with a special emphasis on the author situated within the Assamese literary canon. It not only discusses the themes and issues within her writing, but also focuses on the distinct language and style she uses. The volume includes non-fictional prose, excerpts from her short stories and novels, viewpoints of critics, letters and entries from diaries, as well as interviews with Goswami about her writing and personal life. It engages with her works in the context of her multifaceted, almost mythical life, especially her avowed 'activism' against animal sacrifice and militancy in her latter career. Part of the Writer in Context series, this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of Indian literature, Assamese literature, English literature, postcolonial studies, cultural studies, global south studies, gender studies and translation studies.

Valour Unlimited : Haryana and the Indian Armed Forces (1914-2000) Aug 25 2020 Warfare being an integral component of human civilization, nations are generally defined by the role played by their Armed Forces in shaping history. The story of the Army has neither a beginning nor an end; one has to, therefore, choose a point in time to start it. This story begins in 1914. The history of soldiers from Haryana, who have served the Indian Armed Forces through the last century, is a gripping account replete with innumerable examples of bravery, self-sacrifice and love for the country. The 'ordinary' men from this small state have played a big role in protecting national dignity. Thus, they have created values that shall not get inundated by moods of the moment due to their timeless appeal. Doughty Indian soldiers epitomize this sentiment, more than anything else. Hopefully, the coming generations would honor them by emulating their example. This focused account of the regional history of a national phenomenon will be of interest to teachers, scholars, soldiers as well as to the defence welfare policymakers.

An Inspirational Story May 02 2021 I am Major Subhash Sasne (Retd.) presently residing in Pune. We all know normally that autobiographies are written by legendary, well-known people and celebrities. I belong to none of the aforementioned categories. Notwithstanding, I have ventured to narrate my real-life story in this book, An Inspirational Story. It highlights my struggles in my childhood and my journey as a Fauji and physical training instructor in the army; my aspirations for establishing world records and associated challenges faced in fulfilling my dreams; my efforts to become an army officer; unplanned, premature retirement; financial crunches; opportunity in the Department of Sainik Welfare, Maharashtra; helping thousands of ex-servicemen; Veer Naris and their dependent children and conceptualising the Pre-Primary Fitness and Sports Programme in Maharashtra involving the conduct of physical tests for over two lacs children. I deeply feel that by reading my story, the readers will get inspired to do something extraordinary in their life and also pursue their goals in the actual world.

Emerging Trends in Indian School Education System Apr 20 2020 Introduction On August 15, 1947 India attained Independence from the British domination. This gave the people of the country the first fullest opportunity' to mould their educational policy according to the needs of the nation in the fast changing times. But this opportunity was, not free from heavy responsibilities that lay ahead for reorienting the entire system of education, which apart from enabling the coming generations to develop their natural faculties, may also enable them to rebuild a new India. The content of learning, which from the very beginning of the British era had been mainly of a general and theoretical nature, had to be given a practical bias. The country needed a large number of technicians,. engineers, doctors, scientists and other skilled workers who could impart a new shape to various things in the developing economy of the country :which had been languishing under colonial exploitation for about two centuries.. These were, indeed very heavy and arduous tasks and the new Government and people of the country had no option but to accept the challenge of the situation and make their best efforts 'to put the education in the country on right lines. The most important problems in the field of education before the national governments were the expansion of facilities for mass compulsory elementary education, reform of the secondary and university educational systems, to develop vocational and technical education at various levels-, to encourage women education and also to reorganise the structure of educational administration. With p. view to fulfil all these objectives, the Central and State Governments have been endeavouring to give a concrete shape to various programmes under the Five-Year Plans. We propose to discuss in detail all these efforts in the following chapters in this book. This chapter, however, presents only a brief analysis of the main events of educational importance during the period of Planning in India.
